MONROE'S MEETING AT BONAVIDA LASTED 20 MINUTES--TORIES EN- TERED AMID ROUSING CHEERS FOR COAKER AND WINSOR

BONAVIDA, Oct. 18.—Monroe, Winsor and Little attempted to hold meeting in the Orange Hall here last night which was a complete victory for the Opposition. The Chairman was unable to bring the meeting to order and Monroe when attempting to address it, was persistently heckled and interrupted. As the Tory candidates entered the hall rousing cheers were given for Coaker and Winsor. Monroe got up and during the twenty minutes he was on his feet there was absolutely no order. He actually defended the taking in of A. B. Morine on the grounds that they wanted brains in the Government. This remark was considered the grossest insult to Newfoundland and Newfoundlanders ever uttered by any public man. After referring in sarcastic terms to the Methodist Monthly Greeting, and its articles against his booze policy, he stated that the purpose of the bottle a day law was to lessen the drink evil. He was then asked to explain how he was going to make people sober by giving them a bottle a day and from there on the meeting was taken completely from Monroe by speakers in the audience. Twenty minutes after the Chairman opened the meeting Mr. Monroe disappeared amid cheers for Coaker and Winsor. Capt. Winsor made no attempt to speak.

Woman Leaps to Death

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 17.—A woman, believed to be Mrs. Hart of New York City, deliberately took her life late yesterday by plunging over the Horse Shoe Falls. She jumped from the end of Luna Island bridge in the presence of five tourists, who were nearby. She left a note on the bridge, addressed to her son, M. Hart.

Canada Waiting Developments

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—We are awaiting developments, and also waiting to see what other Dominions are going to do, said J. A. Robb, Minister of Immigration and acting Minister of Finance, last night, when asked if the Canadian Government was going to maintain its exhibition at Wembley next year. Mr. Robb said that strong representations had been made from Great Britain, urging Canada to extend its share in the British Empire Exhibition for another year. It is also understood that several Canadian interests have put forward to the Federal Government reasons why Canada should be represented at the Exhibition during another year.

Alicante Has Lady Mayoress

ALICANTE, SPAIN, Oct. 17.—Spain's first woman Mayor took office to-day at Custrondets district of Coacentaina. She is Maria Perez, 40 years old, and a widow. Senora Perez, who was a school teacher, has been well received by citizens. The appointment of Senora Perez is considered significant as Spain has no law giving the suffrage to women.

Chank Defeated

PEKING, Oct. 17.—Chang Tso Lin's Manchurian troops have been driven beyond the great wall, says an official communique.

The Battle of Chanhaikwan

TIEN TSIN, Oct. 17.—The battle of Chanhaikwan continued unceasingly today. The city itself suffered considerable damage from the bombardment of the Manchurian troops seeking to make a permanent capture of that key border town. Central Government soldiers were being massed in an attempt to retake Chibimkenai, another Great Wall point.

Liberals Have 350 Candidates in the Field

LONDON, Oct. 17.—It was officially announced tonight that the Liberal Party has 350 candidates already in the field. In the last election the party had a total of 454 candidates. The Miners' Confederation has decided to run 47 candidates, besides four which the miners' districts in Scotland have in the field.

British Colonists Carried Off

NOME, ALASKA, Oct. 17. The colony intended to establish British title to Wrangel Island, in the Arctic Ocean, North of Siberia, was carried off by the Russian armed transport Red October, which raised Russian flag there on August 20th, it was learned here to-day.

Liberals Will Not Waste Time or Money

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The drop in the number of Liberal candidates from what was anticipated at the outset of the election contest is explained by the chief Liberal whip as being due to the fact that the Liberal Party is not disposed, either locally or nationally, to waste effort and money on forlorn hopes. There are only 350 Liberals in the field so far whereas in the last election there were 454.

203 Straight Fights

LONDON, Oct. 17.—It is probable that at the nominations, tomorrow, 42 candidates will be returned by acclamation, 26 Conservatives, 8 Liberals, and 8 Labor candidates. It is likely there will be 203 straight fights between Labor and Conservative candidates, compared with 99 last year. There will be forty straight fights between Labor and Liberal candidates, compared with 55 in 1923; and 84 straight fights between Conservatives and Liberals compared with 106 last time.

Spanish Protectorate In Morocco

MADRID, Oct. 17.—Lieutenant General Miguel Primo De Valera, head of the Military Directorate in Spain, to-day was named also as High Commissioner of the Spanish Protectorate in Morocco and chief of army operations in Northern Africa. His appointment was made by royal decree.

UNION SPIRIT AWAKE!

MUSGRAVETOWN, Oct. 18.—Messrs. R. G. Winsor, J. H. Scammell and K. M. Brown arrived at Brooklyn by Wednesday night's train and proceeded to Canning's Cove on the following day where great enthusiasm was felt. From there they proceeded to Jamestown, where a public meeting was held and three excellent addresses were delivered by the speakers, after which the old time Union fire was kindled to a great flame of ringing cheers for Sir W. F. Coaker and R. G. Winsor. They then proceeded to Musgravetown where a large number of friends were awaiting their arrival in the Orange Hall. After Mr. Alfred Saint called the meeting to order and three able addresses were delivered, once again the grand old spirit of the F. P. U. was felt by the ladies and gentlemen present. The only thing regretted was their stay with us was too short.

Signed—C. Greening, Reginald Greening, John Saint, Fred Wiseman, Elias Greening, Alfred Saint, Joseph Matthews, Gideon Greening, James Saint, S. Greening, Musgrave.

CHAPTER XXII.

The Savage Transformed

"It is a beauty!" she replied; then with a quick flush and a little movement toward him full of gratitude and affection—"and all the beautiful things you have sent me—so many and so rich! How can I thank you! How could you waste them on one so worthless, so insignificant—a poor Indian girl!"

He stopped her with a smile, almost sad.

"Is there no mirror in your room, Kyra?" he asked, archly.

She looked at him with naive innocence and unconsciousness, and his eyes dropped before the pure, modest surprise of hers.

"Can it be possible," he thought, "that she is ignorant of her own surpassing beauty?"

Then he sighed almost inaudibly, and with an inward bitterness, added mentally:

"The world will soon rid her of that precious unconsciousness."

"You have some one to rile with, of course," he said, going back to the subject of the horses, "and are never dull."

"Oh, no," she said; "never dull—"

"I am glad of that," he said, "and I trust you will be beyond the reach of even the suspicion of dullness for the future. I have found a friend for you," he said, suddenly.

"A friend," she repeated, in her low voice, that thrilled him in a strange, almost painful way.

"Yes; one who was — is still—a great friend of mine."

"A gentleman?" said Kyra, deeply attentive.

"No," said Percy, turning his face toward the window, and tapping her fan with his cane—"no—a lady—a Miss Devigne. Her mother, Lady Devigne, has a house at Queen's Gate, in London, near here, and she has kindly offered — is anxious, to become a friend of yours. You are to go to her and spend a few days, to go when you like for a change from school. What do you say?"

He turned to look at her. Across her face had come a strange, sudden wistfulness.

"It is very kind of her—very!" she replied—"and she has never seen me! It is very kind!"

"You will go?" he asked.

She looked with some surprise. Had he not said as much? If he had expressed a wish that she should go to Siberia she would have gone.

"If she will have me." There was a pause. Then she looked up at him. "And you, my lord?" he winced—"are you still at Vering?"

"No," he said, "I am in London."

Her face brightened. "And will you call sometimes at the lady's—your friend's?"

"Yes—often," he said.

The light increased, and a radiant happy smile made her face lovely as a summer morn.

"When shall I go—how soon?" she asked under her breath.

Percy's heart thrilled under this palpable evidence of her affection for him.

As he was about to reply, a brought-up came up to the door, a low, well-bred voice was heard to make some inquiry, and the next moment the servant ushered in Lillian Devigne.

She had been in some measure prepared to see a good-looking girl

In Lord Vering's ward; but the fresh, innocent and superb loveliness of the reality for a moment threw her, adept as she was, off her guard. She stood looking from the slightly flushed face of Kyra to the also slightly embarrassed one of Percy. Then she took her cue, and coming forward with both hands extended, drew Kyra toward her.

"My dear! I cannot help it! You have charmed the heart out of me at first sight! Has Lord Vering told you how I long to be your friend?" Kyra answered, with a smile and a glance of wondering admiration at the lovely, delicate face:

"Yes."

"Well, I love you already. You will try—you must love me!"

No man, no woman could resist her, much less an unsophisticated girl, ignorant of all guile.

Kyra suffered the equally dazed, delicate beauty to put her arms round her waist, and then, with a generous, affectionate impulse she bent her head—for Kyra was taller of the two—and kissed her.

A flush, quick and faint suffused Lillian Devigne's face, but it was gone in a moment, even as she looked up, and kissed the Indian girl in return.

Judas should not always be painted as a scowling, dark-browed Jew; an artist might take for a model such a sweet face as Lillian Devigne's, and yet be near to truth!

For as her lips touched the pure ones above her she vowed in her heart that she would betray her!

And Percy? He looked on with a smile, but it was not wholly one of pleasure, for a sudden silence seemed to fall upon the two women, and strike a chill across his own heart.

CHAPTER XXIII.

A Lovesick Swain

"You are a most extraordinary girl, my love!" exclaimed Lillian Devigne, with a charming little laugh of admiring surprise.

The scene was the drawing-room at Queen's Gate—a room as sweetly beautiful and bewitching as Lillian Devigne, the speaker, herself; the person addressed was Kyra, there on an afternoon visit, out for a holiday from Minerva House, and looking more like the goddess chaste Diana, than a schoolgirl, in her slim, white tulle, with its dark red rose, and her black, richly gleaming hair close to her shapely head.

"Most extraordinary, my dear Kyra!"

"Am I?" was the doubtful response. "Am I? Why do you say so?" and she looked at the fair face, so great a contrast to her own, with grave interest.

"My dear child, because I cannot help it. Did ever any girl make such an absurd reply to so genuine a question? I ask you if you consider your constant friend Charles Merivale handsome, and you reply 'that you do not know—that you never thought about it.' And that with so genuine a lack of interest that is ludicrously astounding."

"Well, I have never thought about it," confessed Kyra, smiling in spite of herself, and pouring some fresh water from a dainty ewer into a still daintier flower stand.

Lillian Devigne sank into a chair close behind her, and drew a fancy card basket near her with an air of playful earnestness, that artfully masked her real interest.

"Now, how sweetly you said that, and yet how cruelly. Do you know, Kyra, I should not love you half so much if you were not such a puzzle to me. You are so strangely unlike all other girls of your age; so exasperatingly candid; so fearfully free from even a proper vanity that—there, I can't go on if you look at me with those great, grave eyes. Look at your flowers, my dear child. I beseech you."

Kyra turned her eyes away with a little, low laugh.

"Am I so strange, and strange only by being what you say? I cannot help it. You must teach me to be more like other girls."

May Build Another Zeppelin

PARIS, Oct. 17.—A scheme, which would postpone dismantling of the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen, Germany, for at least two years, and by which construction of another giant dirigible to the U. S. A. by trans-Atlantic flights this week, would be made possible, is described in Le Journal today. The French Company which has purchased patent rights from Zeppelin Company with the intention of using them for commercial dirigible lines, according to the newspapers has suggested that the Zeppelin Company build another ZR-3 for France, to be considered on reparation account. The German Government is understood to favor the scheme which will be put before the Reparation Commission.

Stanley Baldwin Returned Unopposed

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The strenuousness of Premier MacDonald's political campaign and speech making tour has affected his voice, which was somewhat weak when Parliament adjourned. Reaching Cardiff this morning, Mr. MacDonald was entertained at a private luncheon, but was unable to make a speech because his voice practically failed. He proceeded later to his own division at Aberavon. The pact between the Liberals and Conservatives to avoid unnecessary contests today produced the announcement that Liberals had decided not to oppose Stanley Baldwin in the Bewdley division of Worcestershire thus giving Mr. Baldwin an unopposed return. Speaking at the Queen's Hall this p.m. Winston Churchill took credit for the fact that Liberals and Conservatives are co-operating to oppose the advance of Socialism. This, he said, he had urged for years. He declared that the day would come, five or ten years hence when Government representative of the forces of the left must bear responsibility in the country, but if decisive defeats are inflicted on Socialists in this and succeeding elections, he said, they would drop the nonsense borrowed from Karl Marx and would be fit to take part in bearing the responsibilities of state when their time came.

Colonial Secretary Thomas at Derby

LONDON, Oct. 17.—J. H. Thomas, Colonial Secretary, in a speech today at Derby, where he is again offering himself for re-election, referred to the achievements of his department in the MacDonald Government. He asserted that the Labor Government had found very strained relations existing between Great Britain and Canada, not owing to any action on the part of the Labor Government, but by previous Governments. This was the Labor Government's first difficulty, Mr. Thomas said, and it was straightened out, but the Government did not stop there. The administration recognized it was a dangerous spot and proceeded to take the necessary steps to avoid any further relations of this nature. It could not be denied that the present Government had encouraged developments within the Empire. Mr. Thomas proceeded. Sound and sensible schemes of immigration had received the Government's approval. Mr. Thomas said. Under the Labor Government there would be no dumping of people down without regard for them, and this policy was being welcomed by the Dominions. At the present moment there was a kind of effort being made to develop and improve the relationship of the various countries within the British Commonwealth. Mr. Thomas said. This would not be accomplished by increasing the price of food but by endeavouring to ascertain such matters as were responsible for Australian meat being bought in Australia at two pence per pound and sold to the consumers in Great Britain at seventeen pence per pound, and other causes of a somewhat similar nature in connection with the Dominions. That, Mr. Thomas concluded, was the kind of necessary work the Labor Government was endeavouring to tackle.

Red October Has Karluk Bodies

VLADIVOSTOCK, Oct. 17.—The Russia armoured transport, Red October, which was recently sent to Wrangel Island to claim that bit of land for Soviet Russia is expected to arrive here shortly with the bodies of members of Stefansson's Karluk expedition, which were found on Herald Island east of Wrangel. The Karluk, an exploration ship, went down in ice sixty miles north of Herald Island in 1914.

Reparations Agreement Working On

PARIS, Oct. 17.—Owen D. Young, temporary Agent General for reparation payment, reported to the Reparation Commission this morning that the application of the Dawes plan was proceeding with perfect regularity and that the different organizations set up by the Dawes plan were getting to work under satisfactory conditions. The next step in the process of turning the reparation problem to the new reparations machinery will be the registry by the Commission next Tuesday that all outside economic interference with the German industrial regime in the Ruhr has ended. The Dawes plan provides that this must be done a fortnight after the plan is considered as being in effect, and it is understood that this is now an accomplished fact, the Allies having withdrawn their economic missions from the Ruhr.

Thanks Gin Pills for excellent health

An ex-alderman of the city of Hamilton tells an interesting story.

"I have been unable to rest at night with pains around my kidneys and through the small of my back, at times so bad that I was unable to rise from bed without assistance. The trouble so affected my kidneys that urination was at times difficult, and at other times so frequent as to cause me great inconvenience. I started on a course of Gin Pills and before I had taken half a box I felt relief. Before I had completed the second box the pains had left my back and I felt quite restored and well again. I attribute my present excellent health entirely to Gin Pills."—J. S. Lillis, Hamilton, Ont.

This letter surely offers conclusive proof of the efficacy of Gin Pills.

Gin Pills never fail to bring relief to sufferers from weakened, disordered kidneys. If you have any symptom of kidney trouble—if you are bothered by headaches, pain in the back, bladder weakness, or rheumatism, do not delay. Order Gin Pills to-day and say good-bye to suffering.

France Delays Recognition of Russia

PARIS, Oct. 17.—Failure of the Cabinet after to-day's meeting to announce De Jure recognition of the Soviet Government of Russia, which had been expected following favorable recommendation yesterday of the Special Committee on Franco-Russian relations, gave rise to the suggestion that there was some hitch in the plan to accord recognition, but Government circles insisted that recognition was foregone conclusion and that any delay was due only to some detail of the form of step to be taken.

AN ODD FELLOOW'S ODD SOCKS

He was the plague of the commercial-room, and he wasn't a commercial either, but he made himself so much at home that nobody had yet attempted to put him out.

At the moment his eyes were fixed on a old gentleman who was displaying a sock of many hues.

"I say, alr," he remarked, "were your socks made out of a bit of Joseph's coat?"

"They were not, young man. At the same time, I am willing to bet a shilling that there is not another sock in the room to match that one," was the old man's reply.

"Taken!" said the other, winking at the assembled company. "Show us your other sock."

The old fellow did so. It was black!

OBEYING ORDERS

"Now, James," said the joiner to his apprentice, "I am going out. I don't expect I shall be long, and you can be planing up that ten-by-eight beam till I come back."

But, alas! misfortune overtook the joiner. He slipped at the bottom of the street, sprained his ankle, and had to be taken home.

The next day he hobbled into his workshop, and was confronted by an enormous pile of shavings. James was invisible.

"Jim!" he called.

"Hallo!" came a far-off cry.

"Where are you?"

"Down here, under the shavings!"

"W-why—what are you up to?"

"Planing the beam up. You told me to keep at it until you came back; but if you'd kept away any longer there'd have been none left."

ST. JOHN'S, NEWFOUNDLAND, SATURDAY, OCT. 18th., 1924

Just a Few Items Paid That Great 'Patriot' and Economist Sir John Crosbie

It is suggested that one Sir John Crosbie wants it broadcasted that the Fishermen's business at Port Union is to be made a "target" of political attack on account of its financial transactions with the Customs House, but that certain elements in the Torp Camp have realized that this inflated knightly Crosbie had better go slow. The Creed of Toryism is to disintegrate the fishermen's enterprise, so that the Toryism for which Monroe stands may rear its ugly head and be given complete control of the political and commercial affairs of our country.

But it might be well to-day to remind the Electors of Bonavista Bay, in a few brief sentences, of the past "clean" political record of this same Sir John. He dearly loves to hoodwink the people into supporting him as a real Simon-pure reformer and economist. In the past it has paid him handsomely to do so; when at the same time his declared political creed is to "get what he can out of it." For to-day we would ask the Electors who are being asked to support a Government in which Crosbie is Finance Minister, to cast their eyes back a few years when Sir John was in the Government as Minister of Shipping, and before that luscious period. The public accounts tell an interesting tale. They show that on various accounts Sir John Crosbie has received over a million and a quarter dollars out of the Government chest. In eight years, just for instance, Sir John Crosbie's firm received from the Government on coal account the miserable pickings of $342,959.61.

For steamship contracts and other profitable undertakings by reference to the accounts we find the following flea bite:—

Clean up on Patrol Account:

Fogota	$430,000.00
Susu	22,800.00
Whalers	16,300.00
	$469,100.00

Year after year, as the following record shows, were profitable ones to Sir John: on steamship and other profitable side lines:

1909-1910	$16,967.69
1910-1911	45,200.60
1911-1912	43,350.00
1912-1913	37,000.00
1913-1914	37,500.00
1914-1915	52,580.00
1915-1916	21,358.00
1916-1917	18,656.25
1917-1918	35,600.00

353,962.26

These several amounts do not take into account Crosbie's salaries in various capacities during 10 years and various other avenues of revenue for himself or his companies out of the Government. And now he's working for his health and country.

Electors of Bonavista, picture it, this is the man who is boasting today of his ability and willingness to "clean up." He can clean up, there's no doubt about it—he has proved that he can. And this is the man who today is also moving heaven and earth to have W. S. Monroe returned by Bonavista Bay against Sir William F. Coaker. It is unthinkable that such a thing can happen. Coaker is your sheet anchor, and Port Union your sure haven of refuge against Monroe's policy to crush, if he can, the independence which the existence of Port Union has wrung from a clique which will grind to the dust the true spirit of Liberalism.

MEN OF BONAVIDA, your choice is plain, RUM RULE AND MONROE.

COAKER and a land to be LOVED and RESPECTED.

MONROE'S DECEPTION OF BONAVIDA ELECTORS EXPOSED IN WELL REASONED LETTER

Editor Advocate.

Dear Sir,—In the issues of the "Daily News" and "Evening Telegram" of to-day's date (17th) I notice an article addressed to the Electors of Bonavista Bay, in reply to the Manifesto of Messrs Coaker and Winsor, the Opposition Candidates for the pending bye-election in Bonavista District. The persons signing the article purport to do so on behalf of the United Fishermen and labor men of Bonavista Bay then in the port of St. John's. They "ask their friends to reflect that for the four months the present Government has had control, a great change has taken place in our financial condition." Granted.

We would also ask the Electors of Bonavista to reflect and ask Mr. Monroe did any act, word or deed of his, or his associates, help to the remotest possible extent to bring about these changed conditions. Did not Mr. Monroe tell you in 1923 and 1924 that supply and demand absolutely governed the price of fish. Therefore it is the most ridiculous nonsense and an insult to any man of ordinary intelligence whether United Fishermen or Labor Men to suggest such a silly question as contained in the article under review viz. "Ask him (meaning Coaker) how it is that prosperity has consented to smile on us this year of Grace 1924, when we were so destitute during the past four years and if it is not the business Government that is in control of your Country." It would be just as sensible and reasonable to give the Government credit for the very fine Summer of 1924 as compared with the summer of 1923, or to blame the Government for the disagreeable rain storms of the present week.

Ask Mr. Monroe if Mr. Sullivan, M.H.A., did not state from his seat in the House of Assembly that there were about six thousand men employed at the Humber Industry this summer, and follow up that question by asking him what credit can be given him, or his associates, for establishing that wonderful labor giving industry in this country. His reply, if honest, will be, we did absolutely nothing if anything we tried to hinder it as we had no faith in the proposition.

Who did bring about the Humber Industry? Sir William Coaker and Sir Richard Squires were the chief factors in starting the project and bringing it to a successful conclusion, whereby, our earning power is increased annually by millions of dollars, and with the increased price of fish as a result of a comparatively short catch "prosperity has consented to smile on us this year of Grace 1924," in spite of the proposed senseless and useless expenditure of two million dollars on roads to salmon pools for tourists who will never come here, a bottle a day and practically free distribution of booze in hotels and on trains.

Ask Mr. Monroe if he did not state from his seat in the House of Assembly, that it was not right to tax the mechanics and laborers of St. John's and throughout the country to pay the fishermen a bonus.

Ask him, is this what he and his colleagues told the men of Bonavista Bay, in 1923 and the spring of 1924? Didn't he lead the fishermen of Bonavista Bay to believe that a bonus would be given on fish. Did he tell the men of Bonavista Bay when he was asking for their votes, that it wasn't right for one class of producers to be given a bonus while the wage earners of the whole country had to be taxed to find this bonus money. Where does Mr. Monroe's honesty and consistency fit, in this respect? Mr. Monroe is therefore guilty of the most dispicable political deception.

Ask Mr. Monroe, why he increased your load of taxation, by placing duties on pork and beef molasses and kerosene, to a yearly amount of $400,000.00? Why he took the duty of gasoline, which is largely used by well to do men like himself and other owners of motor cars, and put the duty back on kerosene, which is largely used by fishermen.

Don't ask Mr. Monroe, but tell him, you men of Bonavista Bay that he not only spoke against a bonus for fishermen, but he added insult to injury by making your taxation burdens proportionately heavier by $400,000.00.

Can you vote for a man who will deceive you and increase your burdens in such a way. It is only an Act of Providence that the greater number of the fishing schooners of Bonavista Bay did well this summer, and you of course believe what Mr. Monroe and Mr. Morine told you "supply and demand gave you a good price." Consequently you are in a position to provide for your winter requirements. But when Mr. Monroe as Prime Minister stated there would be no bonus given this year, he had no idea that you would get six dollars or six fifty, he with a good many others thought $5.00 would be the price. Still the idea that the best possible price would be about $5 he not only ridiculed the idea of a bonus on fish, but increased taxation on the food that is most largely used by the fishermen. That is what Mr. Monroe did for the fishermen of not only Bonavista Bay, but the whole country.

Yours truly,

NATIVE.

MR. MACDONALD RECEIVED A TREMENDOUS OVATION

LONDON, Oct. 17.—With the Parliamentary elections only twelve days away and the campaign at its hottest nobody would venture today to predict the result for it is generally acknowledged that anything may happen. The Government party still professes complete confidence in the outcome of the balloting, but it was asserted that the hearts of most of the Labor candidates are less buoyant, than when the campaign opened. Outside the ranks of Labor few persons are to be found who believe that Labor will come back with a majority in the House. In fact impression is growing that as in the last Parliament the Conservatives again will have the strongest personnel should that happen the Government of Ramsay MacDonald should it come again into power would be quickly defeated by a combined vote of the Conservative and Liberals and a Conservative ministry would be formed. Until the nominations are completed tomorrow the exact situation will not be known; but up to the present this dissipation of triangular contests has been effected almost entirely at the expense of the Labor party, while the withdrawal of candidates has consisted very largely of Liberals. As the lists stand tonight there will be about 210 triangular contests as against 263 last year. The candidates already nominated are reckoned roughly as Conservatives, 540; Laborites, 490; and Liberals, 340. The Liberals thus falling to third place and in political circles it would cause no surprise to see this position stereotyped in the election results. At Barry this afternoon Premier MacDonald complained bitterly that the press and the Opposition parties were persistently misrepresenting the Labor party's policy, and he appealed to his opponents to make "a decent intellectual fight of it." The Premier asked why they should slander the Labor party and go sniffling for little tattle like as many dogs round a dump heap. Mr. MacDonald received a tremendous ovation when he reached Averavon, his home constituency. Vast crowds blocked the road to town along several miles.

TROTSKY BREAKS LONG SILENCE

MOSCOW, Oct. 17.—Minister of War Trotsky, who had been at the watering resort of Kislovodsk in the Caucasus for two months, broke a long silence today with a significant speech concerning Russia's need of a Red Army because we do not want to see the Republic of the Caucasus, he said: "We are compelled to have a Red Army because we do not want to be enslaved and torn to pieces by our enemies the Imperialist robbers who are now tearing China to pieces."

THE NOMINATION OF WINDSOR PATENT

"Canada's Best Flour"

as the choice of all good housewives IS ACCEDED BY ACCLAMATION!

PERSONAL

"Joey" Snow, who used to run a custom tailoring store in the Lamb building, Water Street, St. John's, came to see us a few days ago. Mr. Snow has been engaged as cutter for the past year with Grieff Bros. of Baltimore, and has resigned that position to take a similar one with a large firm in New Haven. The Weekly wishes him a large measure of success without misfits.

Mr. Ignatius J. Stapleton, formerly of Grand Falls was a visitor at our office a few days ago. Mr. Stapleton has been in Boston since the summer of 1923 and for a time was with the A. H. Howe Co., the well known makers of the Walk Over Shoes, but lately he has been with the Columbia National Insurance Co., and is also attending night session at the Bentley School of Finance and Accounting. This school is said to be the largest of the kind in the United States, and usually has about 3000 students on its roll.

Mr. Martin F. Murphy, formerly of Leslie Street, St. John's, was another visitor. Mr. Murphy has been in New York for about three years and has recently gone on to make his home in the "Hub."

During the week we had a visit from Edward J. Penny, formerly for the editorial staff of the Evening Herald in its palmy days, and later publisher of the "Alvionian."

Mr. Penny came to the U. S. about a year ago and has been engaged in newspaper work, and in the writing of tales of the sea. Several of his productions have appeared in the "Short Stories" magazine, published by Doubleday, Page & Co.

Another visitor was Allan Moore, formerly window dresser in the men's department of Ayre & Sons, Limited. Mr. Moore migrated to Ford City when the "boom" was on but not finding conditions there all that had been pictured, did not remain long. Since then he has had lucrative positions in Newark and Brooklyn, and is now doing well in carpentering. He is residing in Chelsea.—Nfld. Weekly.

MR. TAIT'S CONDITION

As many of our subscribers have been enquiring about the illness of Mr. H. H. Tait, associate editor of the Weekly, we are glad to assure them that he is now out of danger, and is progressing favorably.

The operation which had to be performed was rather a serious one, and for a few days he was in a critical condition, but eventually rallied, and we hope will be on duty before long.

His brother Dr. H. S. Tait, who is practising in S. Brighton, has been visiting him in hospital at Fall River and is quite satisfied with the progress the patient is making.—Nfld. Weekly.

S. S. Walker To The Rescue

The S.S. Walker, which was chartered by the Government to take the place of the Wren, after she ended her days at Lopside Island, Labrador arrived in port at 2 p.m. Capt. Sam. Bob Winsor is now in charge of the Walker. It is rumored the Walker will immediately take a supply of coal and "beat it" back to Bonavista Bay, to help out the two forlorn hopes, after the failure of Monroe and Billy Winsor to hold a meeting at Bonavista last night, an S. O. S. has gone forth, and they are making a desperate effort to scrape up every supporter they can, and as there are three or four on the "Walker" made up mostly of Billy's relations, and friends, this, no doubt, is one of the reasons why the ship has been called back from the Labrador to Bonavista Bay.

The Reason Why Billy Winsor Wants Bonavista Bay Men To Re-elect Him

We understand that Capt. Billy Winsor, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries is now the owner of a motor car, no or car no doubt this is one of the reasons why Monroe stuck $725.00 extra on too Billy's salary, to enable him to "live" in town, and drive around in an motor car, of English manufacture, practically the same as that of the famous "Rolls Royce."

A branch of the "Newfoundland Outport Nursing and Industrial Association" was recently organized at Corner Brook as a result of Lady Allard's visit, and already a substantial sum of money had been raised.

TO EXPECTANT MOTHERS

Letter from Mrs. Ayars Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Spring Valley, Sask.—"I took the Vegetable Compound before my last confinement, when I got to feeling so badly that I could not sleep nights, my back ached so across my hips, and I could hardly do my work during the day. I never had such an easy confinement and this is my sixth baby. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the 'Farmer's Telegram' and wrote you for one of your books. We have no druggist in our town, but I saw your medicine in T. Eaton's catalogue. I am a farmer's wife, so have all kinds of work to do inside and outside the house. My baby is a nice healthy girl, who weighed nine pounds at birth. I am feeling fine after putting in a large garden since baby came. (She is as good as she can be.) Yours is the best medicine for women, and I have told about it and even written to my friends about it."—Mrs. ANNIE E. AYARS, Spring Valley, Sask.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system so that it may work in every respect as nature intends. All druggists sell this dependable medicine. Give it a trial.

The S. S. Sachem leaves Glasgow on the 27th inst for this port via Liverpool.

General Post OfficeFOREIGN MAILS

As the period from 15th of October to 11th of November is the statistical period, during which all outward international correspondence must be carefully weighed, the mails on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 16th October to 11th November will be closed a half hour earlier than usual, that is 11 o'clock instead of 11.30 a.m.
